

Supplemental Support/Ongoing Support

If you already have a DBA staff, or part time staff, there are times when you need to add temporary DBA resources for a new project and other activities. Hiring a consultant DBA is a convenient way to add staff resources without going through Human Resources to justify adding permanent staff. Garrison Systems can be contracted to work on short, or long, term DBA project-based assignments.

If you are in-tune to contract out support of the entire Progress DBA environment, please see the notes on Full Outsourcing.

Notes:

- This work can be performed remote (if the network allows outside access) or onsite.
- As always, if the customer can give some time frame for the length of the project or assignment, it will always be appreciated. Fifteen (15) days notice of start, or stop, is customary.
